Board of Education
Plainfield, New Jersey

Gentlemen:

Submitted herewith are the usual statistical reports for the school year 1940-1941.

The figures on pupil accounting indicate a continued drop in enrollment. The average enrollment in the elementary schools was 4629, a decrease of 193. In the high school there was an increase of 19 from 1844 to 1863 over the previous year. The net decrease for all schools was 174. Of the total decrease in the elementary schools, considerably over half was in the Emerson, Lincoln and Bryant Schools. It is planned to decrease the teaching force by one in the Lincoln School and one in the Emerson School for the next school year.

The Irving School enrollment has been diminishing in a degree greater than the total of all elementary grades. Earl Kinney, Attendance Supervisor, has been instructed to take a school census in the Irving, Lincoln and Bryant districts, so that a predictive survey can be made of the possible enrollments of these schools.

The decreased elementary enrollments are reflecting the lowering of the birth rate which started in 1929 and reached the lowest figures in the years 1932-1937. The low was reached in 1935 with 453 births. The trend since then has been regularly upward as follows:

1936	469
1937	503
1938	527
1939	553
1940	611

It can be expected there should be a trend upward in number enrolling in the lower grades in the near future.

The enrollment decreases in elementary schools is in no way a disturbing factor in the administration of the schools. Rather they fit the plans of the Board in its building program which considers the elimination of some of the oldest elementary buildings.

During the year the schools were conducted at a high standard of efficiency. A fine staff of principals, supervisors and teachers are highly complimented on their achievement.

The Plainfield school system is administered with the idea that the fullest freedom be granted to the staff to initiate and progress. It is most gratifying to know that this opportunity is accepted by so many to grow in their profession. The full results of this free, co-operative effort are apparent in the many projects which were executed during the year.

In the midst of World War II, with practically every nation in the world either directly or indirectly involved, there will be no escape from the responsibility that public education must accept in these critical days. If the experiences of the first World War are repeated, one of the major problems will be the question of inflation with its effect on the salaries of Board of Education employees. In the last war increased prices were not matched by increased salaries with the result that purchasing power of salaries was so reduced that the teaching profession ceased to be attractive. Men and women in such numbers left teaching to take up more remunerative employment that it became difficult to maintain schools at a high standard.

It can be expected that education will not be unscathed in a war economy, but the ground gained and standards achieved should not be made to suffer unduly. Any deterioration in public education should not be accepted quickly or thoughtlessly by those charged with administrative authority. Careful study and reasoning judgments must prevail if the schools are not to be set back by war.

The political and economic conditions of Europe, which make the war possible, should be examined as a partial guide in the attitude of the American public toward the problems that the United States will face in the post-war period. It is safe to predict that even greater opportunities for education will be a part of the change in our culture. If this is so, every effort should be made to maintain and improve the services already offered by educational institutions.

During the year classes in domestic science and commercial training were established with funds supplied by the National Youth Administration and supervised by the State Department of Education. Pupils in these courses are those engaged in work projects of the National Youth Administration. The enrollment in commercial classes is approximately 20. This class meets on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in the High School from 3:30 to 6:00. Instruction is given in Typewriting, Shorthand, Bookkeeping and General Office Practice. The attendance is good and the young people are undoubtedly profiting by the work offered. The Domestic Science section comprises a group of 60 girls who have to spend 10 days a month in the N. Y. A. Center. Thirty girls are in attendance the first two weeks of the month and thirty the last two weeks of each month. We now have two teachers in this Center, one teacher of Home Economics, devoting four hours a day to this subject and one teacher spending three hours each day on the Social Sciences, Citizenship, Occupational Guidance, etc. Classes are under the local supervision of Arthur F. Hopper, Supervisor of Fine & Industrial Arts. These classes are conducted without cost to the Board of Education. Federal funds are allocated to the various State Departments of Education for this purpose.

The most important events of the year, from the standpoint of future development of the school system, were the decisions of the Board of Education and the Board of School Estimate to purchase two plots of land for building sites. One of these is located on Central Avenue. It has an acreage of approximately 4.5 acres and is a very desirable property for the location of an elementary school to take the elementary pupils of the Hubbard School, when it is converted into a junior high school. The cost of the property was $9702.43. The other plot consists of approximately 6.5 acres adjoining the Maxson School property. Its cost was $12,186.06. It is gratifying to report that their possession by the Board completes, for any present prospect, all land purchases for the future building needs. This Board of Education and previous Boards can be complimented on their judgment and foresight in acquiring, in the last few years, plots of land thoroughly adequate in size and desirable in location for the present and future needs of the system. By so doing, they have removed for many years any necessity for any consideration of further purchases and have bought land at a time when their costs have been remarkably low.

The past year has been one of excellent spirit and morale in the school system. This has been made possible by the full hearted interest of the Board of Education in fostering and supporting its employees in their desire to make the school system a living, progressive organism for the children and youth of Plainfield.

Respectfully submitted,

F. W. COOK
Superintendent

AUDITOR'S REPORT

I have examined the above statements of the Board of Education of the City of Plainfield and in connection therewith have checked or tested accounting records and supporting evidence by methods and to the extent I deemed appropriate.

In my opinion the statements present fairly, and in conformity with generally accepted accounting principals applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year, a summary of the funds of the Board available in the school year ended June 30, 1941, of the expenditures therefrom and of the balances available on that date; also a comparison with the year's budgetary estimates.
